

Develop new ways of thinking, boost your confidence, and learn to lead with purpose.

Join Forward, a free online learning program offered by McKinsey & Company to equip young professionals with must-have practical skills to succeed in the future of work.

Take a Step.
Forward.

APPLY NOW

Applications are open between
May 9 - June 20, 2023
www.mckinsey.com/forward

Forward Learning Journey

Foundation Level (8 weeks)

June 22 – August 22, 2023

Develop must-have practical skills through highly interactive, self-paced digital courses. You will be introduced to adaptability, effective communication, problem solving, new ways of working in a digital world and more.

Advanced Level (12 weeks)

August 29 – November 21, 2023

See your newfound skills come to life through an immersive journey of advanced digital content, bespoke virtual workshops, and a group assignment with real-time peer feedback. Develop your individual leadership style in a collaborative learning environment.

Network Level (ongoing)

Join a vibrant global network of young talent and get exclusive access to further learning and networking events. You can also get involved and pay it Forward by co-creating the future of the Forward program through different volunteering opportunities.

Free

Two hours of learning per week

Five month program

Practical, must-have & transferable skills

Are You Eligible?

-  Residing in one of the countries where Forward is available
-  Currently employed, self-employed, or in between jobs
-  Have no more than five years of formal work experience
-  A completed post-second education
-  A good command of the English language

Forward is available in Africa, the Middle East, Pakistan, Turkey and Azerbaijan.

For the full list of applicable countries, please refer to our website.

McKinsey
& Company

Join the conversation

#TakeAStepForward

mckinsey_forward

@McKinseyForward

For more info, visit our website: www.mckinsey.com/forward